

European Day of Languages 2019

Germany

Spain

France

Italy

Sweden

Great Britain

EUROPEANS EAT 50% OF ALL THE WORLD'S

chocolate

And yes, we love chocolate. More than 50% of the total world production of chocolate is sold and eaten by Europeans. Switzerland has the highest consumption per capita, second to Germany.

GEOGRAPHY

TOP 5 Geography curiosities

- 1 Disneyland in Paris
Is the most visited place in Europe.
- 2 Europe
Is the world's second-smallest continent but has the second largest population.
- 3 Bulgaria
Is the oldest country in Europe and it hasn't changed its name since 681 AD.
- 4 Greenland
Is the biggest island in the world! At the same time, we should remember that it is an autonomous territory that is geographically located in North America, but historically and politically in Europe.

FUN FACTS

Mount Etna in Italy is the second most active volcano in the world and has had several eruptions in recent history. It's a stratovolcano on the east coast of Sicily in Italy.

Almost half of the world's wine is produced in Europe! Italy, Spain, and France are the biggest wine-producing countries in Europe.

ZERO

Iceland has no mosquitoes at all. Not even one.

We've got a rainforest! It is not the same as the Amazon rainforest though, but the Perucica forest in Bosnia and Herzegovina is the last surviving rainforest in Europe. It's a primeval forest and it is only allowed to explore it in the company of trained rangers.

UNESCO

There are more UNESCO World Heritage Sites in Europe than any other continent in the world.

The European lions became extinct in 3000 AD. Fossils have been found and excavated in several countries in Southern and Eastern Europe. They probably became extinct due to hunting and lack of living space.

There used to be lions in Europe!

The European lions became extinct in 3000 AD. Fossils have been found and excavated in several countries in Southern and Eastern Europe. They probably became extinct due to hunting and lack of living space.

225 European languages

functions until now. This represents 3% of all world languages.

301 year when San Marino have been founded

the world's oldest country

12 Number of existing monarchies in Europe

of which 10 of them are hereditary monarchies.

8 000 000 exhibits are in the British Museum

Only 1% of them are exposed.

NOTES

Powered by

PIKTCHART

LangLion